Kevin Maney, Ph.D., earned his doctorate in educational technology from the University of Toledo in 1994 and taught social studies for eighteen years at Springfield High School. He also served as the Director of the Center for the Adoption and Diffusion of Technology Innovations in Education (C.A.D.T.I.E.) under the auspices Lucas County Educational Service Center. Kevin is currently an assistant professor of education at Miami University where he teaches education technology classes and conducts several technology-related FunShops. Kevin is a real swell guy; you should take the time to get to know him, maybe buy him a beer (if you're OLD ENOUGH, that is!!)...
